Our entire defense strategy is

REACTIVE…

AKA, losing

Patch Management

Fixes known issues

Someone already pwnd it

Already in Production!

Secure Development

- Reduces Vulnerabilities
- Expensive
- Limited Effectiveness

Security Theater

Free groping at airport

You aren't safer

Introduces vulnerabilities

But if they aren't working…

What is missing?

Attackers are human too.

They have:

- Finite time
- Imperfect tools
- Emotion / Ego / Bias
- Risk

So…

Attack them there.

If I have seen further, it is only by standing on the shoulder of giants.

Ambiguity

> To act in such a way that the enemy does not know what to expect.

Server Banners

Who needs this?

File Extensions

The browser doesn't care.

Default Files

Why leave these up?

If knowing is half the battle

Shut up.

Deception

“Convince the enemy we are going to do something other than what we are really going to do

Reduce what they can know

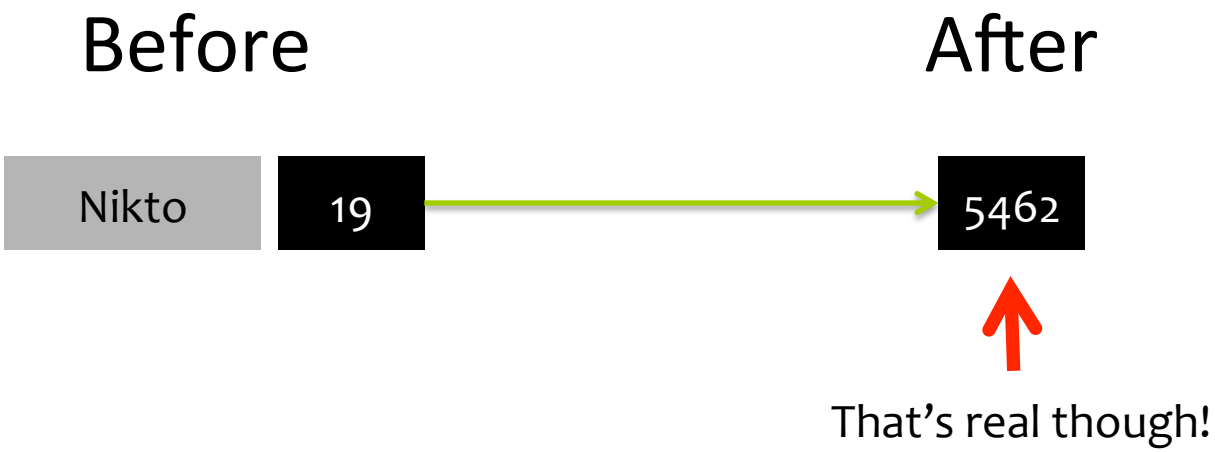
Lie about the rest.

Increase the noise by…

Blatantly lying.

Issues Identified



See updates after talk

But that wont fool people…

Will it?

Some lies are better.

Tempo

“The secrets of victory thus lie in the taking of initiative.

It's not about reaction

It's about awareness and acting sooner.

“I love it when a plan comes together.
-Hannibal

So far we've shown:

- Misdirection
- Shutting down tools
- Increasing awareness

But…

Can we break it?

To recap.

Stop acting like this…

Start acting like this.
