OpenTLE Abstract

OpenTLE is an official development project from National Electronics and Computer Technology Center (NECTEC), Linux SIS and Linux TLE are two main localize version of linux distros that widely use in Thailand.

development oss in thailand are mainly from developer communities and government. since 2000 the main task is only try to overcome Thai language feature including word-break, fonts, display, application bug fixed.., until now almost fundamental problem already solve and ready to focus more on specific application.

this session will give an information of development & promote Open source software experience in thailand, including with activities, improve competence in developing, maintain local strength   and fostering open source implementation thought government projects.